American Broadcasting Company
4461 Connecticut Avenue, N.W.
Washington, D.C.

Dear Miss Whedon:

Thank you for your letter of 29 November 1961, repeating your invitation of 28 September 1961 that I be a guest on "Issues And Answers" after my first few weeks or months in office.

I am appreciative of your interest and of the interest of the American Broadcasting Company in portraying to your television audience the Director of Central Intelligence, and I will keep your offer in mind.

It is my policy as of now not to make any public speeches, write any articles, or appear on any TV programs. I will reconsider this policy after what I deem a proper interval and at such time I will again consider your offer.

Thank you for your good wishes.

Sincerely,

John A. McGone
Director
